
Theses

2010

The role of the imagination in the religious conversion of adolescents attending
Catholic secondary schools

Richard Patrick Branson
University of Notre Dame Australia

Follow this and additional works at: <http://researchonline.nd.edu.au/theses>

 Part of the Education Commons, and the Religion Commons

COMMONWEALTH OF AUSTRALIA
Copyright Regulations 1969

WARNING

The material in this communication may be subject to copyright under the Act. Any further copying or communication of this material by you may be the subject of copyright protection under the Act.

Do not remove this notice.

Publication Details

Branson, R. P. (2010). The role of the imagination in the religious conversion of adolescents attending Catholic secondary schools
(Doctor of Philosophy (PhD)). University of Notre Dame Australia. <http://researchonline.nd.edu.au/theses/48>

This dissertation/thesis is brought to you by ResearchOnline@ND. It has been accepted for inclusion in Theses by an authorized administrator of ResearchOnline@ND. For more information, please contact researchonline@nd.edu.au.

The role of the imagination in the religious conversion of adolescents attending Catholic secondary schools

Richard Patrick Branson

Doctor of Philosophy
College of Education
University of Notre Dame Australia
2010

Declaration

This thesis is my own words and no part of it has been submitted for a degree at this, or any other, University. Due acknowledgement is made to the work of others used in this thesis.

Acknowledgements

I am grateful for the support of the staff of the University of Notre Dame Australia, particularly the teaching staff of the College of Education. They assisted me throughout the preparation of this thesis with timely advice. I acknowledge with gratitude the direction provided by my supervisors, Dr Wayne Tinsey, Dr Anthony Imbrosciano and Prof. Richard Berlach. I dedicate this thesis to the memory of Dr Anthony Imbrosciano whose patience and enthusiasm helped me to shape my research. Sadly, he fell ill and passed away on July 13, 2008. I would like to acknowledge the generosity of the 15 participants in the study. They called themselves Alexandra, Alyssa, Cameron, Cecil, Elizabeth, Emily, Frank, Glynnna, Gunter, Kevin, Luke, Mikaela, Morgan, Sophie and Stephen. Their willingness to be interviewed, and in some instances, to keep journals made the study possible. Finally, this thesis would not have been completed had it not been for the encouragement of my wife Maryanne and our daughter Melissa. I am forever in their debt for their interest and patience.

Abstract

The mission of the Catholic Church is evangelisation, the purpose of which is conversion. At a diocesan level, the mission is carried out through the agencies of family, parish and school. Every Catholic school is mandated to carry out its part in the Church's mission through its curriculum that incorporates both Religious Education and planned catechetical experiences. This study was devised to find out some students' perceptions of their faith, the influences that they perceive on changes to their faith, and to describe how the imagination assisted their faith development and religious conversion. Fifteen Catholic secondary school students from four schools in the Archdiocese of Perth, Western Australia were interviewed in their final year of school. Some also kept journals and some were interviewed again in the year after they left school. The data collected was analysed using methods associated with interpretative phenomenological analysis (IPA). Conclusions were drawn about how the imagination assists faith development and religious conversion. The findings were aligned with the Western Australian Catholic Bishops' Mandate Letter to the Catholic Education Commission of Western Australia (CECWA) (2009) and recommendations were made to assist the evangelisation of youth in Catholic secondary schools.

Table of Contents

Declaration	2
Acknowledgements	3
Abstract	4
Contents	5
List of figures	9
List of tables	10
Abbreviations	11
Chapter 1: Evangelisation and Catholic education
Introduction	12
The research intention	13
Background to the study	14
The research problem	19
Substantial and original contribution to knowledge	21
Research questions	22
Definition of terms	23
Summary	25
Chapter 2: A review of related literature
Introduction	26
Faith	27
Human faith	27
Religious faith	30
Christian faith	33
Conversion	35
Christian conversion	39
The process of conversion.....	41
The imagination	44
Religious imagination	51
Religious education and catechesis.....	55
Religious education	57
Catechesis	61
Approaches to research	64
Contrasting research methodologies	65
Movement one: Researching Catholic education in Australia	69
Movement two: Epistemology	71
Movement three: Hermeneutics	72
Movement four: Phenomenology	75
Research design: Interpretative phenomenological analysis	76
Movement five: Structural developmental theories	79
Movement six: Psychology of religion	80
Ethical considerations	81

Summary	86
Chapter 3: The research plan
Introduction	87
Procedures	88
Data collection	89
Sample selection	94
The participants.....	96
Data analysis	103
Using qualitative data analysis software (QDAS)	105
Reading the transcripts	107
Coding the data	108
Using memos	111
Identifying major themes	114
Limitations of the study	117
Summary	121
Chapter 4: Data analysis: Fifteen students tell their stories
The themes	122
First major theme: A changing relationship with God	124
First minor theme: Who God is... ..	124
Second minor theme: What God does	131
Second major theme: Significant influences	134
Third minor theme: Supported by parents and family	134
Fourth minor theme: Supportive friends and groups	146
Supported by friends	146
Supported by Christian youth groups	152
Fifth minor theme: Supported by Church, schools and teachers	156
Supported by Church	156
Supported by schools and teachers	159
Third major theme: Owning a personal faith	165
Sixth minor theme: Resolving inner conflict and dissonance.....	166
Seventh minor theme: Responding to God's presence	181
Summary	186
Chapter 5: Adolescent faith and religious conversion
Introduction	189
Mikaela's conversion	192
Changes in Mikaela's relationship with God	193
The influence of significant others	197
Mikaela's relationship with her parents	198
Mikaela's relationship with her peers	200
Owning faith in God	205
Concluding remarks	208
Kevin's conversion	209
Changes in Kevin's relationship with God	209

The influence of significant others	213
Kevin's relationship with his parents	214
Kevin's relationship with her peers	216
Owning faith in God	217
Concluding remarks	219
Elizabeth's conversion	219
Changes in Elizabeth's relationship with God	220
The influence of significant others	225
Elizabeth's relationship with her parents and siblings	226
Elizabeth's relationship with her friends.....	228
Owning faith in God	229
Concluding remarks	230
Stephen's conversion	232
The adolescent's sense of God	233
Changes in Stephen's relationship with God	235
The influence of significant others	241
Owning faith in God	245
Concluding remarks	249
Summary	250
Chapter 6: The imagination and religious conversion
Introduction	254
A model of how the imagination assists faith development.....	256
Reaching back: memory, emotion and the imagination.....	260
Information processing theories	261
Cognitive development and the imagination	266
Leaning forward: the imagination, understanding and will.....	271
The imagination and understanding	272
Maria Harris' model of religious imagination	277
Contemplative imagination and faith development	278
Ascetic imagination and faith development.....	280
Creative imagination and faith development	282
Sacramental imagination and faith development	284
Concluding remarks	289
The imagination and religious conversion.....	289
Mikaela's conversion	290
Kevin's conversion	300
Elizabeth's conversion	309
Stephen's conversion.....	318
Concluding remarks	327
Summary	328

Chapter 7: Religious education, conversion and the role of the imagination in evangelisation
Introduction	329
Catholic education in Western Australia	330
Christian witness and faith development	334
Evidence of the role of the imagination in constructing images of faith from the witness of people of faith.....	341
Christian witness and conversion	344
Evidence of the role of the imagination in constructing images of the possibility of conversion from the witness of people of faith	348
Christian witness, faith and adolescent psychological development	350
Ministry of the word and faith development	354
Primary proclamation and faith development	354
Primary proclamation and conversion	356
Initiatory catechesis and faith development	362
Religious education	368
Students' perceptions of religious education	370
The pedagogy of religious education	374
Religious education methods	378
Teachable moments	384
Summary	388
 Chapter 8: Findings and recommendations
The mission of the Church: evangelisation	390
The context of the study	391
The power of Christian witness	392
Ministry of the word: Primary proclamation	394
Ministry of the word: Initiatory catechesis	394
Ministry of the word: Religious education	395
Methodology: A phenomenological study	396
The work of the imagination	399
Recommendations	399
Conclusion	401
 References	403
 Appendix 1: Letter to student	423
Appendix 2: Letter to parent/caregiver	425
Appendix 3: Acceptance form	427
Appendix 4: Interview schedule #1	428
Appendix 5: Interview schedule #2	429
Appendix 6: Journal statements	430
Appendix 7: Use of closed questions and rich data	431

List of figures

Figure 1: Theoretical framework for research	69
Figure 2: Category coding tree	112
Figure 3: Reaching back: Memory, emotion and the imagination	258
Figure 4: Leaning forward: The imagination, understanding and will.....	258
Figure 5: A model of how the imagination assists the faith development and religious conversion of adolescents	260

List of tables

Table 1: The differences between catechesis and religious education	63
Table 2: The interviews and journals	93
Table 3: The general categories and their definitions	109
Table 4: The major and minor themes derived from the data analysis	124

List of abbreviations used

- AG Ad gentes divinitus. Vatican II (1965)
- CCC Catechism of the Catholic church. (1994).
- CS The catholic school. Congregation for Catholic Education (1977).
- CSTTM The Catholic school on the threshold of the third millennium
Congregation for Catholic Education (1997)
- CT Catechesi tradendae. Pope John Paul II (1979).
- DV Dei verbum. Vatican II (1965).
- EN Evangelii nuntiandi. Pope Paul VI (1973).
- FC Familiaris consortio, Pope John Paul II (1982).
- GDC General directory for catechesis. Congregation for the Clergy (1998).
- IC Inter oecumenici [Instruction on the proper implementation of the Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy] (1964).
- LC Lay Catholics in schools: witnesses to faith. Congregation for Catholic Education (1982).
- M01 Mandate of the Catholic Education Commission of Western Australia
2001-2007
- M09 Mandate of the Catholic Education Commission of Western Australia
2009-2015
- RD The religious dimension of education in a Catholic school. Congregation for Catholic Education (1990).
- RM Redemptoris missio, Pope John Paul II (1991).
- SC Sacramentum Caritatis. Pope Benedict XVI (2007).
- SD Salvifici Doloris, Pope John Paul II (1984).

The use of inclusive language in documents published by the Catholic Church is a vexed issue. Out of respect for the authors of the texts cited above, the original language has been retained. No attempt has been made to make the language gender-inclusive.